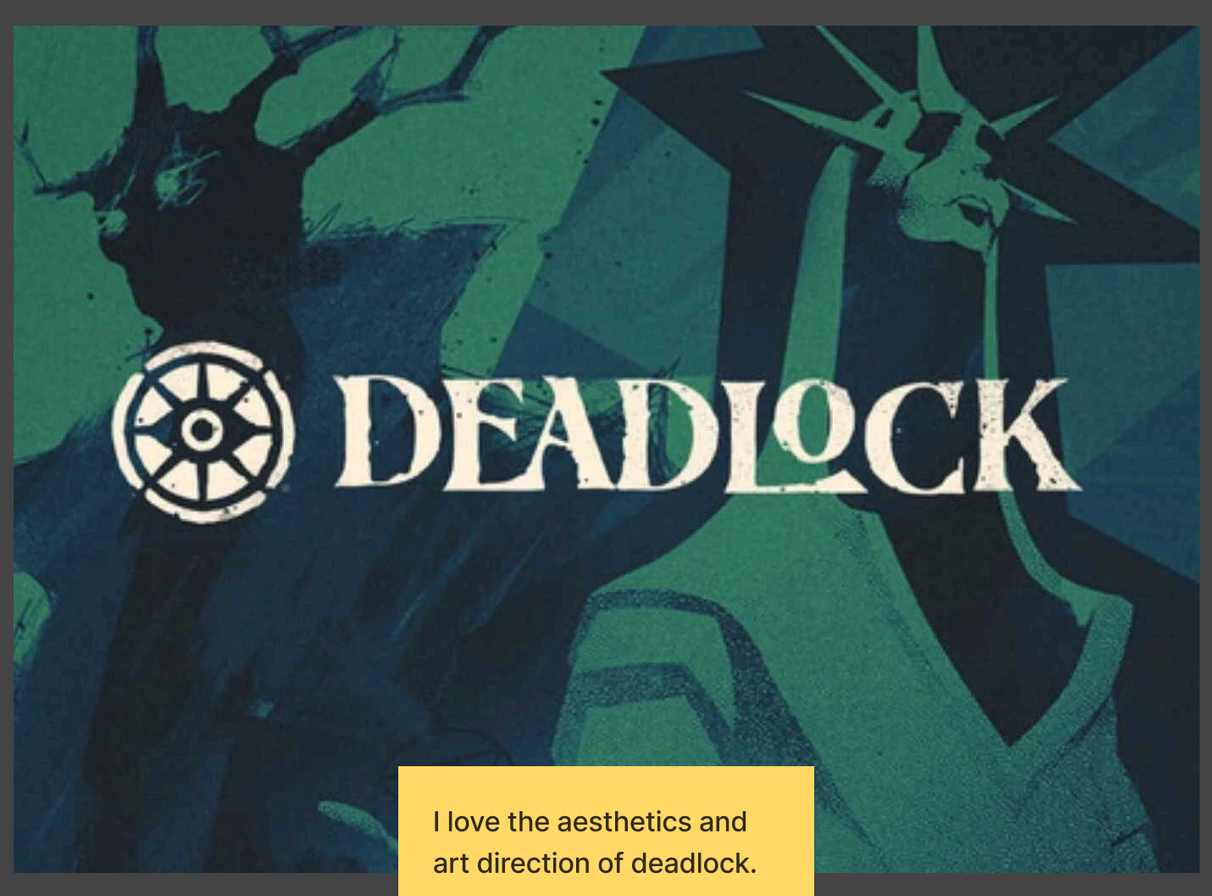
I enjoy the white space

SalmanGM

I like how the title takes a space as a navigation header, and the aesthetics of the typography like a red ink stamp in east asian cultures.

SalmanGM



I love the aesthetics and art direction of deadlock.

Love the paper and brush stroke textures.

im into the green colors here.

CHECKMATE

the poster design is up my alley, especially how strong thematically it is and the abstract elements in the background to bring life into it.

A new type of marketing agency
est populo
EST POPULO

For a Swedish marketing agency, the goal was to break away from traditional agency by applying a bold, editorial-inspired design approach. By pairing white spaces with typographic hierarchies, we want to bring a distinctly human, high-end feel that redefines digital standards for a Scandinavian agency.

This company was founded in frustration with an agency system that is largely tied to a number of hours instead of striving to improve results

I like the page and scroll preview on the side for the project/case study page. and add another side menu to jump to sections

The design references your AI agents are missing.

I'm in love with a lot of Bencho, micro interactions for ui.
